

JOURNAL OF CONTEMPORARY ISSUES IN OPEN DISTANCE AND E-LEARNING (JC-ODEL)

APC Transparency Policy

The Journal of Contemporary Issues in Open Distance and E-Learning (JC-ODEL) is committed to transparency, fairness, and ethical publishing practices regarding Article Processing Charges (APCs).

Disclosure of APCs:

Any Article Processing Charge (APC) payable for manuscript submission, review, publication, or processing shall be clearly stated on the journal website and in all author guidelines before submission.

Currency Specification:

All the members of Distance, Open and e-Learning Practitioners' Association of Kenya (DOLPAK) and the members of Distance, Open and e-Learning Practitioners' Association of East Africa (DOLPA-EA) will publish all their articles free of charge.

Nonmembers will pay 25 USD or Ksh. 3,500 per article.

No Hidden Charges:

JC-ODEL shall not impose undisclosed fees at any stage of the editorial or publication process. Authors will be informed in advance of any applicable charges.

Editorial Independence:

Payment of APCs shall not influence editorial decisions. All manuscripts shall undergo peer review based solely on academic merit, originality, and relevance to the journal scope.

Periodic Review:

APC rates may be reviewed periodically by the Editorial Board to ensure affordability, sustainability, and inclusivity in scholarly publishing.