

JOURNAL OF CONTEMPORARY ISSUES IN OPEN DISTANCE AND E-LEARNING

(JC-ODEL)

Licensing Policy

The Journal of Contemporary Issues in Open Distance and E-Learning (JC-ODEL) is committed to promoting open access, ethical knowledge sharing, and global dissemination of scholarly work through clear and transparent licensing practices.

Open Access Licensing:

All articles published in JC-ODEL shall be made available under a clearly stated Creative Commons license to support lawful sharing, distribution, and reuse of scholarly content.

Preferred License:

The Journal publishes all articles under the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International (CC BY 4.0), which permits unrestricted use, distribution, adaptation, and reproduction in any medium, provided the original author(s) and source are properly credited.

License Visibility:

The applicable license for each article shall be clearly displayed:

On the article landing page,

Within the full-text PDF version, and

In the article metadata where applicable.

Author Rights:

Authors shall retain copyright of their work while granting JC-ODEL the right to publish and disseminate the article under the Creative Commons license.

Third-Party Content:

Authors are responsible for obtaining permission for any third-party material included in their submissions and ensuring compatibility with the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International (CC BY 4.0) publication license.

Transparency and Compliance:

The journal shall ensure that all licensing information is publicly accessible and aligned with international open-access publishing standards and best practices.
